DEEPER Bible Studies for the Weekend

Session 1 – “How It Was: The World And Our Hearts Before the Change”

Scripture Focus: Genesis 1-3

Goal: As human beings, we are in desperate need of the Savior for eternal LIFE.

When we understand where we come from, we have the proper lens through which to see exactly how and why we need to be transformed. Today, we'll turn to our origin story: how humanity was created by a loving God, how He provided for us in every way, and the betrayal in the Garden that separated us. We'll also seek to understand sinfulness vs. God's holiness on a macro level, and talk about how it relates us personally, in a micro sense.

Session 2 - “How It Changed: The Revolutionary Power Of The Gospel”

Scripture Focus: Ephesians 1:7-10

Goal: That through Jesus' life, death, and resurrection, God made it possible for us to be once-and-for-all set free from the consequences of sin.

When Adam and Eve sinned, it didn't catch God off-guard or by surprise. God has always had a plan in motion, and it looks like this: you are loved. God has fought for you. And when Jesus comes into your life, you move from being a slave to the world and its emptiness to an heir with Him. When you come to saving faith in Jesus, you are adopted into grace through Jesus' death and resurrection: the old is gone and the new has come.

Session 3 - “How It Is: Walking In Newness Of Life”

Scripture Focus: Colossians 3:12-17

Goal: That we live our lives in accordance with how Jesus has changed us.

How then shall we live? A transformed life in Christ means we aren't bound by the old ways of the world. When Jesus takes our heart of stone and gives us back a heart of flesh, that new heart comes with new purpose: to know Christ and make Him known. Our priorities come into focus and our faith is expressed through our purpose and life. We'll look at what's important to believers and how to live like a Christ-follower who has been fundamentally changed.
